Grace Christian University is pleased to announce a milestone in the history of their campus library, named after the founder of our church back in 1921.

In recognition of the library's expanded role in student learning, research, and academic success, the Bultema Memorial Library will be renamed the Bultema Library & Learning Center.

This occasion honors our first Pastor (then known as the First Berean Reformed Church) "Domini" Harry Bultema, whose significant contributions to biblical scholarship continue to serve students and scholars alike. In recognition of his influence and literary legacy, Grace Christian University will confer upon him a posthumous honorary doctoral degree, approved by the accrediting body of GCU. Many of Bultema's writings are preserved within the archives of the GCU library that bears his name and can be found in our own "Berean Room" here at Anchor Point Bible Church as well.

The original library building was established in 1968 through the generosity of faithful supporters, including members of the Bultema family and our church. Many of those early supporters have since gone home to be with the Lord, and we are grateful for the foundation they established for future generations.

Grace Christian University would be honored by your presence to celebrate this important moment if you are able to attend (details on the other side). Anchor Point Bible Church continues the legacy and Biblical commitment with our doctrines and theological commitment to God's Word rightly divided in this dispensation of Grace (2Tim.2:15).
